The History of the H.O.M.E Society

The H.O.M.E. Society was formed to respond to the needs of 16 individuals who had not succeeded in previous attempts to leave institutional life and return to the community.

The society grew out of a coalition of managers from 5 existing societies, family members and staff from the former institution.

There was also a commitment on the part of the funders (The Ministry of Children and Families, now CLBC) to work closely with HOMES in developmental stages. Many of the support services were consolidated within the agency for quick response.

Finally there was a major focus on the environment and neighborhood. Homes were designed to allow the men and women we serve to succeed despite challenging behaviors. Working closely with BC Housing and the architects enabled us to find rural sites, which allowed distance from neighbors and enough space and options to allow energetic and productive living in a community setting.

From it's beginning, H.O.M.E.S has maintained a strong commitment to listening to the needs of individual's and families. Our supports and services must honor this group above all and we strive to continue to create new and innovative supports. This belief results from the fact that our services directly and deeply affect the quality of life of those receiving them. We are committed to being a leading Society to assure the services we provide are of the highest standards.

Our H.O.M.E.S Philosophy

The Society believes that people with disabilities should enjoy the rights and responsibilities of all citizens. They should participate in decision-making in all aspects of their lives and should be fully included in their community. H.O.M.E.S also welcomes the families and other significant persons in the lives of disabled persons be they former staff, friends or professionals. It is hoped that their experience and caring will assist the men and women we serve to live in the community as dignified and valued citizens. Furthermore, their participation will enable people to live richer and more satisfying lives and will assist H.O.M.E.S in ensuring a good quality of care.

The H.O.M.E. Society has adopted a philosophy of Gentleness as advocated by Dr. John McGee Ph.D. The goal of Gentle Teaching is companionship. Rather than try to change those we serve we seek to change ourselves and the environment to allow those we serve to feel safe, loved, loving and engaged. John McGee has trained many of our key staff as mentors. John has done many hands-on sessions in our homes and has completed training across the province that involved 250 staff. Sadly, John passed away in 2012.

The H.O.M.E.S philosophy is one where by, the needs; rights and wishes of the individual are paramount. H.O.M.E.S recognizes that the values, beliefs, and life histories of all participants color each perspective.

H.O.M.E.S is aware that conflict can arise in many aspects of the delivery of services to people with disabilities. There are many people and organizations involved in the process of service delivery, including the individual, the family, the care givers, supervisory staff, the Board, the funding agencies, community monitoring groups, members of the community and many more.

H.O.M.E.S believes that communication plays a key role in the prevention of conflict. Hence, each perspective carries its own merit and must be heard and considered. Furthermore, we believe that if our perspectives are presented respectfully and in a rational manner they are more likely to be considered. Finally, we believe that in most instances of conflict there is a common goal, which is the person we serve. We see ourselves, necessarily, in a leadership role in the process that will result in recognition of the common goal and establishment of a process, which will allow us to work toward it.

Our Mission Statement and Values

H.O.M.E.S. is committed to:

- Welcoming men and women who need a supportive home in the community by embracing the Philosophy of Gentle Teaching.
- Linking with family, friends and neighbors' to provide a circle of support for those we serve
- Supporting the community in which we live and work, contributing to the local economy, agencies and events, and sharing the gifts and skills of those within the H.O.M.E. Society.

Our Values

- Ethical Conduct
- Awareness of moral duty
- Responsibility and accountability in all aspects of our operations
- Pursuit of excellence
- Honesty and integrity
- Fairness and equality
- The celebration of cultural, ethnic, and spiritual diversity

H.O.M.E.S Supports and Services

1. Residential

At H.O.M.E.S, we currently support over sixty individuals in a wide variety of living situations. The society has over thirty five homes located from Surrey, Mission to Chilliwack in the east.

We support individuals in traditional shared homes of four persons, individual one or two person homes and Supported Family Care. Our homes provide a safe and supportive environment, individualized for each person we support.

The following outlines the different options we provide for Residential Supports:

- a. Traditional four bed licensed homes.
- b. Single person homes where an individual receives 24/7 supports through rotating unionized caregivers. This is usually the residential option for newer individuals.
- c. Two person home, separate living areas but with a shared overnight caregiver.
- d. Supported Family Care is the largest residential service which H.O.M.E.S provides. This requires caregivers who are able to make a long term commitment to providing residential support for an individual. Permanent Operators are often selected from those who have worked for us as a caregiver for a period of time. The relationship has been established prior to being deemed an Operator. The philosophy behind Supported Family Care is that people are happiest when they feel they are a valued and integral member of a family unit. This is the cornerstone of the service.

2. Day Services & Supports

a. H.O.M.E.S Work Experience Crew

At H.O.M.E.S, our work crew is busy landscaping, power washing and providing help with the maintenance of our residences and neighbor's yards. Our focus is for the people we support to develop life skills, acquire work experience and first and foremost, the ability to enhance their sense of self worth.

b. Day Services and Supports

Currently, we work together with CLBC to provide day supports for folks who may be living at home or in a private care situation.

We recruit from our database of experienced caregivers to find the right match for the person being supported. Based on the person's interests, the supports and activities are tailored to meet their needs.

c. Respite Services

The H.O.M.E Society provides respite services to a variety of people. The goal of respite services is to provide additional support, rest and renewal for the primary caregivers and at the same time, ensure a safe, enjoyable and meaningful experience for the person in care.

The H.O.M.E. Society Strategic Plan 2017-2022

The Strategic Plan is a document developed for purposes of outlining the goals and objectives of the organization over the next five years. We like to think of it as a “Road map to achieve agency wide goals”. This Plan/PATH was developed as a result of a collective effort involving Board members, Community Partners, Employees, Friends and Families, Contractors and the Management Team. Reports are done bi-annually to ensure goals and objectives are met in a timely fashion. Progress will be monitored by the Management Team and Board of Directors.

H.O.M.E.S held meetings with its five stakeholder groups to gather input/ideas/hopes and dreams for our 2017-2022 Strategic Plan. The groups included:

- Families
- Contractors
- Community Partners
- Employees
- And our most important stakeholder group: Persons Served.

We asked:

- “What would you like to see happen at H.O.M.E.S in the next five years?”
- “What are your dreams for the agency?”
- “What can we improve upon?”
- “What services will be provided? Any new services?”

These questions proved to be very thought provoking and some wonderful conversations ensued. All thoughts and ideas were documented using the P.A.T.H process which encouraged very interactive and colorful discussions.

The following is a compilation of the common themes that emerged from across all of our stakeholder groups.

- Increased involvement in the community, including giving back through blanket drives and volunteering.
- Career advancement opportunities.
- Health and Wellness/appreciation for employees/personnel.
- Increased communication.
- A guided support group for contractors.
- Fundraising for Dreams (Activities/trips etc)
- Increased mentorship and education for persons served.

This is the completed PATH of our 2017-2022 Strategic Plan.

THOUGHTS & Reflections

Avril Orloff, owner of “Outside the Lines”, worked with our team to add this critical visual dimension to our Strategic Plan. We are very grateful for Avril’s talents as well as her guidance throughout the process.

Reviewing the Executive Director's Performance

The Executive Director's performance will be closely watched through formal and informal ways. The whole Board is responsible for evaluating the Executive Director. The Executive Director's job performance will be reviewed and checked only in relation to the agreed-upon job goals (which include The H.O.M.E. Society meeting the goals of the Board's policies, and the responsibilities written in the Executive Director's job description). The following rules apply when reviewing the Executive Director's job:

- Decisions or instructions of individual Board members, officers or committees have no power over the Executive Director except in rare cases when the Board agrees to make a special arrangement.
- The Board will not give instructions to persons who report directly or indirectly to the Executive Director.
- The Board will not evaluate, either formally or casually, any caregivers except for the Executive Director.
- The Board will review the Executive Director's performance as one way to review The H.O.M.E. Society's success at meeting its goals. For example, when the Board's goals are met, the Executive Director will be seen as performing effectively.
- The Board will develop a way to officially review and evaluate the Executive Director, which must include regular collecting of information to help make decisions about what type of job he/she is doing. One of the following three ways for deciding if the Executive Director is doing a good job may be used by the Board:
 - (a) An inside report where the Executive Director gives examples of meeting The H.O.M.E. Society's goals;
 - (b) an outside report where someone not connected to the Board in any way is chosen by the Board to see if the Executive Director is following the rules of the Board; or
 - (c) The Board will select one or more members of the Board to see if the Executive Director is following the rules of the Board and meeting The H.O.M.E. Society's goals.
- The review and evaluation of the Executive Director is regarded as an effective way of determining if The H.O.M.E. Society's goals and policies are being met.
- All policies that give direction for the Executive Director to follow up will be checked regularly in a way chosen by the Board. The Board can check a policy at any time, but usually dates are picked for an annual policy review at the May Board meeting.
- The Board will communicate any changes in the way it reviews the Executive Director's job to the Executive Director.

Annual Evaluation of the Executive Director

One of the key responsibilities of The H.O.M.E. Society's Board of Directors is the performance evaluation of the Executive Director. It is important to conduct an annual evaluation with the Executive Director to outline their achievements and areas for improvement. This evaluation is also an opportunity for the Board to communicate formally with the Executive Director about goals and planning/performance of the Association, as directly related to the Executive Director's strengths and limitations. The evaluation will include a review of overall corporate performance and individual performance and professional development versus targets/goals as established in the current strategic plan.

Usually, at the same time as the annual evaluation of the Executive Director, the board will review and approve the current succession plan.

The H.O.M.E. Society Board of Directors will conduct the annual evaluation at the November Board Meeting.

The Board of Directors will make recommendations about the Executive Director's compensation (if necessary). During this meeting, all Board members have an opportunity to give their feedback and input into the evaluation, as well as the goals and action plans for the upcoming year.

Once the Board completes the annual evaluation(s), they present it to the Executive Director after the Board meeting has ended. The Executive Director will have an opportunity to give input into the goals and objectives. The annual review(s) must be signed by the Board Members and the Executive Director.

If a disagreement occurs about the evaluations between the Board and the Executive Director, the Executive Director will submit his or her assertions in writing within 14 days of the evaluation date. This document is reviewed and discussed with the entire Board at a mutually agreed-upon date.

Regardless of the evaluation process used, the Executive Director needs feedback from the Board all year round. The on-going and formal feedback should include acknowledgement for work the Board is pleased with, as well as immediate feedback for areas of concern. Effective, consistent, and timely communication is very important to building the relationship between the Board and the Executive Director.

A formal performance review is only one component of the on-going communication and relationship between both parties. In turn, a positive working relationship between the Board and Executive Director will ensure great planning, organization, and quality of the Agency's services, supports and goals.

Note: Due to the extensive work it takes to fully evaluate the Executive Director, the Board will conduct a thorough review once every three years. However, to ensure a review is completed annually, the Board will review the Executive Director's performance in regards to the performance goals established through the evaluation and other goals that are jointly established with the Board throughout the year.

Executive Director Compensation

The Board will review the Executive Director's compensation in conjunction with the annual evaluation. The Board will make their recommendations based on the following considerations:

- Resources available
- Outcome of the performance review

- A comparative analysis to other equivalent positions, including base pay, incentive plans, benefits plans and perquisites.

When a decision has been made of a change in the existing Executive Director's compensation, the board will ensure the following is documented:

- Terms of compensation arrangements
- Approval date
- Names of Board members involved in the decision
- Data used in the compensation decision (Analysis etc)
- Disclosures of any conflicts of interests

Executive Director Duties

Please see Policy D.70 for Executive Director Job description.

Executive Director Limitations

The Executive Director will not start or allow any practice, activity, decision or situation at The H.O.M.E. Society that is either against the law, unsafe, or against the rules of professional business behavior.

The following rules apply to the Executive Director:

- The Board recognizes that there may be times when situations come up where the Executive Director will have to choose between two or more Board policies.
- During those situations, the Executive Director is responsible for bringing the conflict to the attention of the Board and to get direction about which Board policy is more important at the time.
- In situations involving the individuals getting services or those applying to get services, the Executive Director will not start or allow any situations, services, or decisions to exist that are not safe, not respectful, and do not honor a person's privacy (confidentiality).
- In situations about the treatment of paid and volunteer caregivers, the Executive Director may not start or allow situations that are not fair or not respectful.
- Budget planning during the financial business (fiscal) year of The H.O.M.E. Society will not: affect or move away from the Board's goals, allow risky situations that result in less money/funding; and allow the opportunity to complete needed planning for the future.
- Information and advice to the Board will be on time, complete, and true.
- All items that belong to The H.O.M.E. Society are considered 'assets' and must be protected, looked after properly, and kept safe.
- Money and benefits for specialized caregivers will depend on if there is enough money available.

- There will be no conflict of interest involved in situations involving money or making contracts. If there is a conflict, the Executive Director will tell the Board right away.

Communication and Advice to the Board

The Executive Director will never give the Board information that is not true, inaccurate, or not properly checked, so they can make good informed decisions. The Executive Director must:

- Let the Board be aware of new issues that come up, possibilities of problematic or negative media/news coverage, outside and inside changes, and especially changes in the meaning of any current Board policy.
- Give information that is needed for regular evaluations, is on time, properly checked, easy to understand in plain language, and connected to the rules of the Board policies.
- Get information from lots of caregivers and outside points of view about issues and choices needed for the Board to make fully-informed decisions.
- Speak to all members of the Board, except when a board member has asked for their own information about board-related decisions.

As soon as possible, report any times when Board rules are not being followed.

Succession Planning

It is very important to always promote leadership throughout the organization. It is responsible and in the best interest of the Agency to make sure strong leadership is in place for Management and financial matters. The Board and Executive Director share the responsibility of succession planning for The H.O.M.E. Society. The Board makes the final decision regarding the choice of Executive Director.

However, throughout the term of the Executive Director, the Executive Director can present, create, and expose senior managers to learning and capacity-building opportunities, both internally and externally, related to executive leadership.

As for succession planning in other areas of The H.O.M.E Society, the Executive Director will make sure there are maximum opportunities for leadership growth and development across all areas within the Agency.

Policy A.40 Signing Authority

The Directors will arrange signing authority with the society's bank in accordance with the by-laws. Cheques written from the society's account must be signed by two of the following people:

Policy

Ongoing professional and personal development is important to the overall effectiveness of the Board, on a collective and individual level.

Board members, along with the Executive Director, will circulate educational opportunities on a regular basis. The learning opportunity must be related to the member's Board duties and responsibilities. The Agency will pay for the related costs, including travel, fees, meals, and accommodation.

As a means of monitoring, the board conducts an annual assessment of itself (as a group). As well, the board conducts periodic self-assessments of individual members, minimally every two years.

The Board of Directors are to review governance policies at the first Board meeting after the AGM has been held.

Policy A.210

Board of Director's Conflict of Interest Policy

Purpose

Board members are expected to avoid any actual or perceived conflict of interest(s) including that which might impair or impugn the independence, integrity or impartiality of the board. There must be no apprehension of bias, based on what a reasonable person might perceive.

Policy

Board members shall recuse themselves from positions, discussions, or votes where they have, appear to have, or believe that they have a conflict of interest that would prevent them from acting in the best interests of H.O.M.E.S and the safeguarding of its programmatic and corporate soundness. Furthermore, should a Board member have a personal financial interest, or a financial interest in any agency, company, or entity that receives or stands to receive financial or other material benefits from performing services for H.O.M.E.S, that Board member shall disclose that interest to his or her fellow Board members.

An actual or potential conflict of interest arises when a board member is placed in a situation in which:

- a) His or her personal interests, financial or otherwise, or
- b) The interests of an immediate family member or of a person with whom there exists, or has recently existed, an intimate relationship.

No board member shall knowingly participate in any decision that appears to directly or preferentially benefit a fellow board member or any individual with whom the member has an immediate family, intimate or commercial relationship.

Board members should not have any connection to the agency within the previous two years, or for a period of up to three months following the completion of their duties as a board member.

Examples of a connection to an agency currently or within the past two years include:

- Preparing an application or providing expert advice used in developing any proposal(s), beyond information on the board's criteria, guidelines and procedures.

- A Board member who becomes aware of a potential or perceived conflict of interest involving him or herself should report the situation promptly by filing a written disclosure statement with both the President and Executive Director.

- A signed copy of this Conflict of Interest Policy from each Board member shall be returned for review to both the President and Executive Director.
- Any disclosure of conflict of interest or potential conflict requires that the President and Executive Director review the situation together and document a suggested resolution that is in the best interests of H.O.M.E.S.
- Resolutions may be appealed to the full Board. All appeals must be made in writing. Board rulings will be decided by a simple majority vote.
- A copy of all documents relating to disclosures, resolutions, and appeals will be retained by the H.O.M.E.S Board of Directors and Executive Director.
- All Disclosure Statements are to be retained for four years. All disclosures and related actions involving grants and contracts must be maintained at least three years beyond the termination of the related grant or contracts or resolution of any action with the funding organization, whichever is longer.
- It is a violation of H.O.M.E.S policy to retaliate against an individual who files a statement raising a potential or perceived conflict of interest. It also is a violation for a Board member knowingly to file a false statement. If such actions should occur, they should be brought immediately to the attention of both the President and Executive Director.

The Board of Directors needs to meet and collectively, as a team, complete the evaluation. The completed forms are to be collected at the corresponding Board meeting, given to the Manager of Quality Improvement who will collate the results and present a report at the next board meeting. The annual self evaluation needs to be done prior to the AGM.

The form is included in this handbook.

Executive Director Evaluation

On an annual basis, the Board of Director's are required to complete an Executive Director Evaluation. The evaluation will be done the month prior to the annual AGM. The evaluations are to be returned in the self addressed/stamped envelope provided. Soon thereafter, a summary will be distributed to all the board members.
